

On August 21, 2007, the court held a fairness hearing regarding the approval of the proposed odometer settlement. We are now awaiting the court's decision. When the court decides, we will post an announcement on our website.

If the settlement is approved, we will need to wait an additional 30 days to see if the decision is appealed. If there are no appeals, the settlement will become effective and Honda will begin providing benefits to Settlement Class Members. If there is an appeal, implementation of the settlement will be on hold until the appeal is decided.